

CLAIMS

1. A method for radiation dose calculation comprising:
preparing a computational model of a volume including a treatment target; 5 characterizing the radiation source; providing parameters for the interaction of radiation with the tissues and materials through which the radiation passes; and performing a discrete-ordinate, deterministic radiation-dose calculation for the characterized source, source position and geometry, and target model.